Express Warranty

Performance Roof Systems (PRS) warrants to you that all consumer products that are branded SOPREMA®, SOPREMA® Select, Chem Link®, Performance Roof Systems™, RESISTO® By SOPREMA, or Tropical Roofing Products® were free from manufacturing defects at time of production. The term of this warranty is 10 years, except for sealant products for which the term is 1 year (the “Warranty Period”). The Warranty Period commences on the initial date of product purchase. This warranty is subject to all the terms, conditions, and limitations set forth below.

By purchasing or accepting the installation of the products, you agree to be bound by all the provisions of this warranty.

Reporting Claims

You must promptly notify PRS in writing of any claim against this warranty. The claim must be received by PRS during the Warranty Period. The notice must include proof of purchase (for example, a copy of your purchase receipt) and a reasonably detailed description of why you believe the product does not meet the requirements of this warranty. You are encouraged to send photographs of representative conditions. Email claims to prswarrantyclaims@performancerooftsystems.us. After receiving a properly documented claim, PRS will promptly investigate and report its findings and conclusions back to you.

Remedy

When the merits of a claim are confirmed, PRS will either provide you with replacement products or refund your purchase price for the product proven to be defective. PRS's maximum liability under this warranty is limited to the originally invoiced price for the products that are the subject of this warranty. If replacement products are provided, the replacement products are warranted to be free from manufacturing defects for the remaining life of this warranty.
